SUBJECT: Phone SCAM

O'Brien County Sheriff Michael Anderson reported his office received a complaint from a local county citizen of a recent scam.

The scam involved a person telephoning the resident and advising the resident that a "grandson" was in trouble and needed money right away! The person calling indicated he was an "attorney" for this grandson and they needed to do a "wire transfer" via Western Union right away. This was done in more than one phone call. The resident lost over $9,000 to this scam.

Residents should NOT SEND MONEY right away. They should attempt to check out the whereabouts of the "grandson" or other person they are being asked to send money about.

Sending money via wire transfers via Western Union and other wire transfer companies should always be checked out before sending any money.

In some cases the scam artist will call back more than once and attempt to get additional money from the victim.

Residents are asked to call their law enforcement agency if they are contacted for these types of situations to possibly check out what the caller is telephoning about. It may be discovered a scam and by law enforcement having received prior complaints on similar scams, they may be able to stop you from being another victim.
